Today View

- the 0.5pt line for the stone is too thick. make it 0.05pt instead.
- Also, don't make it black for the white stone but make it a mid grey that works on both the white stone and black stone.

About

Today View

- the Black Stone has a weird white line. remove that as it isn't natural at all: change it into a mid gray 0.05pt.

Today View

- currently it is only possible to add the stone by holding on for eight seconds. Can we change that to a different way of entering? So we swipe upwards to log, and we rotate the the stone on the y-axis, together with the accompanying short haptic (similar to the swipe left and swipe right) and that would trigger the log.
- So the accompanying descriptor should be 'swipe left/right to flip' and 'swipe up to log'.
- Remove the 8Hz haptic & accompanying animation when the stone is held down.
